The Twiddle Muff Comforter is the original hand-warmer for people with dementia, with multiple sensory stimulating attachments.

- Created with input from occupational and physical therapists, and have been one of our best-sellers for many years
- A great sensory aid for anyone who finds comfort in tactile stimulation
- Includes name tag
- Imported from the USA where it's a best-seller

People with Alzheimer's and dementia find great comfort in repetitive sensory stimulation. The large range of different tactile materials in a Twiddle Muff can provide endless entertainment for restless hands.

Removable attachments

All of the attachments are removable, allowing the Twiddle Muff to be cleaned by hand or by washing machine. They are made from durable and high-quality materials and will last for a long time.

Each Twiddle Muff Comforter comes with the following attachments:

- A soft squeezable ball that is located inside the hand-warmer
- A group of wooden beads in a circular shape
- A band of ribbons
- A sealed satin bag that contains a 'crackle-bag'
- A patch of velcro
- A pocket for a photo or something personal

Warnings
