- Part of our MPPL System
- Large contact switch that requires minimal amount of pressure (usually referred to as a jelly switch)
- When jelly switch button is pushed alarm signal is sent to portable pager
- Complete kit, everything required for a pager alarm system

The most common use of a Help Call Jelly Switch with Transmitter is to provide an individual with the ability to call a live-in carer, neighbour, or care home assistant, should they require help.

Jelly Switch with Transmitter

- For people with poor dexterity, the jelly switch provides a means of initiating a help call for people unable to press typical call pendant buttons
- Compatible with many nurse call systems
- 65mm with lightweight design

Optional photograph

- Switch cover can be unscrewed to allow a graphic or photo to be placed under the clear plastic switch cover
- Can aid people with cognitive problems, dementia, learning disabilities, allowing an "SOS" image or something similar to be used
- Different colours can be used for different jelly switches, useful for use in a care home with multiple patients to prevent switches being mixed-up

MPPL Pager

The MPPL Pager is a portable alarmed pager with multiple volume settings.

- Portable alarmed pager with durable, robust design and belt clip for convenience
- 4 volume controls (including off), allows carer to be in complete control of alarm
- 2 x AA batteries (included)
- Low battery warning

Additional Jelly Switches & Sensors

- Up to 8 jelly switches can be used with a single (or multiple) pagers
- Pagers can have two different channel alarms, so two jelly switches can be identified individually when triggered
- Additional Jelly Switches can be purchased separately
- Also compatible with all MPPL Parts
