How it works

All of our puzzles have been designed and tested to help users in the early to mid-point of their dementia journey complete a puzzle unassisted and the Autumn Market puzzle is no exception.

- One of the more challenging puzzles in the ActiveMinds range
- The size and shape of each piece, the colours used and the unique collection of images have all been designed and tested to help users in early-mid stages complete the puzzles unassisted
- Images have been carefully chosen to allow for visual impairment and to spark memories and conversation once completed

Autumn Market

This painting by Trevor Mitchell, shows fond memories of the North Yorkshire town of Skipton in the 1950s. It captures a lovely moment on Market Day where the market stalls are selling their wares.

Everyone is wrapped up in their autumn coats, shopping for the best and cheapest vegetables for dinner.

Questions to ask

- What does this picture remind you of?
- What do you like to buy at the market?
- What is your favourite thing to do in town?
- Where would you get your weekly shop?
